JOHNSTOWN FLOOD NATIONAL MEMORIAL

To commemorate what until then was the Nation's worst natural disaster, Congress in 1964 authorized a 55-acre Johnstown Flood National Memorial to be established at the site of the old dam near South Fork. This immense earthen dam, weakened by days of steady rain, gave way on the afternoon of May 31, 1889, and poured millions of tons of water down the narrow valley of the Little Conemaugh River in western Pennsylvania. The flood devastated the thriving steel center of Johnstown and its nearby communities and gave the Nation an enduring legend. Some 2,200 persons perished within a few hours, and other thousands lost everything but their lives.

FACULTY and ADMINISTRATION

David L. Smith—Superintendent of Schools

Superintendent Directs Total Program

The Superintendent of Schools is charged by the Board of School Directors with the responsibility of directing and administering the total program of education in the school district. The authority of the Superintendent to take action is granted by the Board of School Directors, and he is responsible to them. Within the limits of laws and regulations prescribed by the Pennsylvania Department of Education and policies of the school district, he has considerable latitude in the exercise of independent judgment in conducting the affairs of the school district. Because the Superintendent is the focal point of responsibility in the school district, all professional and non-professional personnel are either directly or indirectly responsible to him.

John M. Urban—Assistant Superintendent

Twila Patterson—Secretary

Joseph Madigan—Principal

Florence Wissinger—Secretary

Principal Has Numerous Duties

The high school principal is the professional leader and coordinator of the school. The principal is responsible for all phases of the operation of his school. His duties and time are devoted to conference with teachers, parents and students, study of the curriculum and planning for activities. He is the head of the athletic program for the school. He likewise plans and works with students for the betterment of extracurricular activities.

The principal has responsibilities in the areas of building and grounds, budget, records, transportation and discipline.

Sam Plummer—Assistant Principal

Judy Kolar—Receptionist

Board of School Directors

SEATED: Samuel J. Basile, John E. Dimond and George A. Kelley. STANDING: Michael Matsko, Robert A. Cann, James A. Burkey, Jr., Anthony M. Nastase and James L. White.

Regular monthly meetings of the Board of School Directors are held on the second Wednesday of each month in the conference room of the Forest Hills Senior High School, Sidman, Pennsylvania, at 7:30 p.m., prevailing time, except when National Holidays fall on the second Wednesday.

OFFICERS: Robert A. Cann, second vice-president; Anthony M. Nastase, president; James A. Burkey, secretary and Michael Matsko, treasurer. INSERT: Raymond R. Wess, first vice-president.

Guidance Department

Most students are unaware of the great amount of work shouldered by the guidance counselors, Mr. Steve Hrapchak and Mrs. Dorothy Stineman. Their many duties include arranging schedules, giving major tests and advising students on study habits.

The counselors interview students separately several times during the academic year in order to keep them informed of their class standing and advise them on ways to improve grades. Also, the students may feel free to consult their counselors concerning any problem which may arise.

Seniors find the guidance department extremely helpful. Without the direction of the guidance counselor academic seniors, in particular, would find college application difficult.

Steve Hrapchak—Guidance

Martha Kozar—Social Worker

Social Workers

The school social worker makes referrals to outside agencies such as City County Clinic, Child Welfare and Department of Public Welfare for those people who are having difficulties which cannot be resolved within our school.

Arrangement for homebound instruction and counseling for potential drop-outs are made by this office also.

Other areas of service are child accounting—enumeration of children, attendance and all related problems. He is also the liaison officer between home and school in school related problems.

Business Office Vital

One of the most vital, yet most obscure, centers of activity in our school is the business office. Business transactions of the entire school district are dependent upon the efficiency of the business manager and his secretarial staff.

Mr. Neff, business manager, promotes economical use of resources and maintains a close relationship between the business office and the needs and purposes of the educational program.

His other responsibilities include operating the lunch program, purchasing supplies and equipment and the transportation of students.

Four secretaries assist Mr. Neff. They are Mrs. Helen Fornadel, Miss Mildred Mitchell, Mrs. Marion Susko and Mrs. Helen Gdula. A huge bookkeeping machine is used in paying bills and preparation of payroll.

Aides Helpful

The ESEA-1 Federal Program has proven a great help to the school system. The teacher aide program is the largest activity and requires the greatest expenditure.

In the high school the aides include educational secretaries, library clerical assistants and teacher aides.

The coordinator is Alex Afton and the office clerk, Marion Susko.

Foreign Languages Offered

Forest Hills offers two foreign languages, German and Spanish, in addition to the required English courses. A language lab equipped with electronic earphones and microphones enables students to learn the correct diction of the language. Spanish is now offered as a four year course and German, three years.

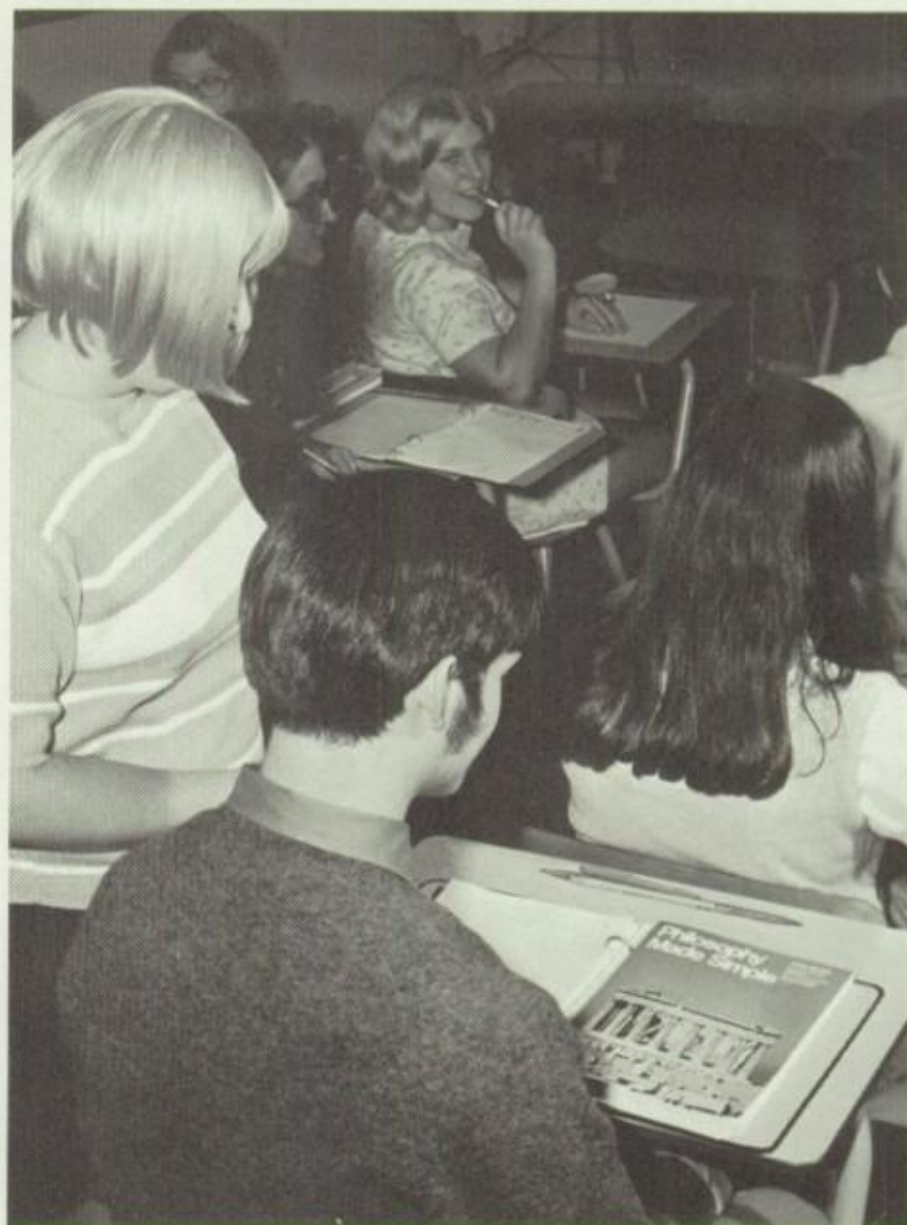

While Spanish and German students are using electronic devices as teaching aides, English students continue to wade through the timeless works of Shakespeare, Chaucer, and Ben Franklin. Film projection, overhead projectors, tape recorders, and filmstrips act as aides for classroom work. Correct usage, writing compositions, book reports and vocabulary study all add spice to the literary day.

Sociology—Philosophy Incorporated in Social Studies Program

A new social studies course, Sociology and Philosophy, has been added to the broadening curriculum of Forest Hills. This alternate course is offered exclusively to seniors. Since this course is regarded as college material, it is highly experimental in that a rigid course of study has not been decided upon. However, Mr. Turchetta, the instructor, has decided to devote the first semester to philosophy and the second semester to sociology. Both topics are inter-related. A direct correlation of ideas will unify the whole effect of the course.

Other social studies courses include American Culture, World Cultures and Problems of Democracy. American Culture is designed to give sophomores a more in-depth outlook of American history and culture which goes beyond apple pie and the chopping down of mythical cherry trees.

In World Cultures, the juniors go beyond the American peripheries to the exotic shores of the Asian countries. For the seniors Problems of Democracy entails a thorough study of U.S. government, its workings and problems.

Math Courses Fit Needs of Students

Included in the math program at Forest Hills Senior High are algebra II, senior math, geometry and trigonometry.

Algebra II deals with the study of relations and properties of numbers. Senior math is a general course offered only to seniors. In geometry a student learns relations, properties and measurement of solids, surfaces and angles.

Methods of deducing parts of the triangle from those already given are taught in the trigonometry course.

Math courses are interrelated and are taught in a sequential pattern to fit the needs of the students. This is apparent in the direct correlation between physics and trigonometry.

Science Dept. Expands

A new course, Bio-Chemistry, has been incorporated into the science department. It has been designed to meet the needs of students who plan to enter the medical field. The subject has been divided into two major areas—Anatomy Physiology and Bio-Chemistry. Anatomy Physiology which is taught by Mr. Kozar is a study of the structures and systems of the body.

While Anatomy Physiology is conducted on a lecture type basis, Mr. Pettorini's Bio-Chemistry class is lab oriented. Students work independently using specialized techniques such as oil emersion. This course is offered exclusively to seniors who have a back-ground in chemistry and biology.

Other subjects of the science department include academic physics, academic chemistry and science 12. Science 12 is an environmental course dealing with current scientific problems.

Commercial Course Is Highly Specialized

Frank Krentz—Accounting

Diana Gvozdoch—Stenographic

The Commercial course is a highly specialized area of study. Major aims of the department are centered on teaching students not only office skills but the proper secretarial decorum.

There are three major areas of concentration. They are: stenographic, bookkeeping clerical, and general clerical. Stenographic supplies students with secretarial proficiency plus additional background which enables the pupil to continue studies in a college or business school. Bookkeeping clerical is preparatory for the person interested in bookkeeping. General clerical instructs the pupil in broad, general office skills.

Each year senior commercial students are tested by state and federal agencies. Test scores are filed for future reference. Federal agencies hire exceptional students on-the-spot.

Several new machines supply students with new techniques. Simulators which are attached to typewriters give practice in key punch. A teletrainer is loaned annually to the school by the telephone company. Other new machines include cash registers, an electronic calculator, and bookkeeping machine.

Students Are Introduced to the Arts

In the art department each student has the opportunity to work with his favorite medium. First year students begin with portrait drawing, progress to the study of perspective and then go on to watercolor or leathercraft. Advanced students experiment with silk-screening, block printing, oil painting and many others.

One of the more active organizations at Forest Hills is the chorus, directed by Arthur Gatty. Rehearsals are a mixture of fun and hard work. Members learn the fundamentals of vocal music and are exposed to classical as well as modern music. The big events of the year are the Christmas Concert and Spring Concert and Variety Show.

Mr. Mollers and the band suffer through all weather to provide half-time entertainment at Ranger football games. They also represent Forest Hills at various parades and provide music for school functions. The color guard, majorettes and flag twirlers are an integral part of the band, adding color and action to the routines.

Practical Arts Supplement Academic Study

Darlene Mathieson, Kathleen Ronan—Homemaking

Industrial Arts and Home Economics are elective courses offered to supplement a student's academic studies. Home Economics teachers blend a variety of ingredients to produce tailor-made classes suited to the needs of each group. Objectively it strives to teach students how to be better consumers. Money management, home furnishings, child care, food and nutrition, and family clothing are the areas of study. Grades are based on a combination of test scores, projects and class participation.

Metal shop, wood shop and mechanical drawing are the three areas of industrial arts open to students. Metal shop deals with such operations as welding, basic foundry work, sheet metal and machine work. Use of the common woodworking machines is the main concentration in wood shop. In mechanical drawing concepts of isometric and perspective drawing are studied. Projects are the student's choice, limited only by his ability and interests. Co-Operation with fellow students and good craftsmanship are essential factors in grading.

Physical Fitness Is Unique Contribution of Physical Ed.

A unique contribution of the physical education program is physical fitness. It also provides a carry over to the sports program and helps to develop positive attitudes of health.

Twice a week students are required to participate in the program. In the fall students engage in flag football, soccer, speedball, basketball, tumbling and weight lifting. Track, softball, volleyball and physical fitness tests are part of the spring program.

Grades are based on participation, skills performed and written tests.

Prospective Drivers Learn Road Rules

Sophomores at Forest Hills are required to take Safety Education as a preliminary course to Driver Education. In Safety Ed. they learn about safe driving procedures and the parts of a car. Included in this course is a number of films, some of which are designed to scare teenagers into driving safely. Classes of Safety Education are taught by Mr. William Lee and Mr. Elias Kudrick.

These two brave men venture onto district roads sharing the front seat of the Driver Education car with beginning drivers. The students learn how to handle an automobile, become familiar with traffic laws and prepare to take their driver's test.

"Great Books" Evolves As a Formal Course

The former Great Books Club has evolved as a formal course this year. Mr. Henry Polasko, head librarian, is the instructor. The students' text is a set of books containing the greatest pieces of literature ever written. By reading, compiling notecards and having discussions, the students acquire an awareness of universal problems and the views of the great minds on these subjects. The class meets on a flexible basis twice each week.

Mr. Paul Yuhas, senior English instructor, has incorporated the Great Books course into the senior English classes. It is hoped that the exposure will help college-bound students gain more insight into the universal problems.

The library continues its daily functions under the supervision of Mr. Polasko who is assisted by aides, Mrs. William Beveridge and Mrs. Twila Grattan.

Nurse Has a Busy Day

Aspirins and Pepto-Bismol are the more common remedies for minor aches and pains that the school nurse, Mrs. Mary Betz, distributes daily. Mrs. Pauline Kestermont, health aide, assists in everyday routine in the nurse's office.

To insure and promote general health, all students receive annual eye and ear check-ups.

All athletes are given a complete physical before they are permitted to participate in any sports event.

Also, all students in their junior year are required to have a complete physical examination.

Richard Pasierb—Special Education

Special Education Stresses Simplicity

Under the direction of their instructor, Mr. Pasierb, Special Education students follow a much simplified course of study. There are seventeen students enrolled in the class this year. Their subjects include math, language arts, current events, basic biology and social studies. These courses supply the pupils with a fundamental knowledge of the subject matter. Most of what the students learn is directly applicable to situations that arise in daily life.

While preparing its students to enter occupational trade schools, the special education department strives to give the pupils social acceptance. Although these students have a separate course of studies, they are not isolated completely from the rest of the student body. They take part in the practical art classes such as homemaking, wood and metal shop; they also participate in the physical education program and extra-curricular activities.

ACTIVITIES

Student Council Strives For Student Welfare

Striving for student welfare was the primary aim of the student council. A co-ordinated effort supported by the student council and the Humanitarian Club extended this purpose to one of "human welfare. Numerous services gave sufficient evidence of their success.

"Apple Butter Sunday" was a project in which members of the two organizations sold apple butter for the purpose of sending mentally retarded children to summer camp. In late spring a movie marathon was sponsored in order to raise money for the Mark Grasser Fund. Proceeds from sales of sweatshirts and Christmas decorations were used to sustain the Flower Fund. A student blood bank gave students an opportunity to make a personalized contribution to charity. "The Spirit of Giving Dance" which was held during the Christmas season helped to initiate a charity fund.

Besides the charity projects the student council was active in governmental business. A revised dress code was submitted to the school board for approval through the office of Mr. Madigan, the principal.

During the latter part of the summer George Valko, student council president, and Mrs. Carol Morgan, advisor, attended the Western Pennsylvania Student Workshop at Westmont High School where a college center designed to aid students planning to attend college was discussed.

This year the student council was composed of eight seniors, seven juniors and six sophomores.

Honor Society Inducts Under Theme of Peace

Using the theme of peace at its induction ceremony in late November, the National Honor Society received 27 new members into the organization. The entire student body witnessed the induction proceedings held in the high school gymnasium.

Four members delivered the traditional speeches on leadership, character, scholarship and service, the qualities that the society strives to recognize in high school students. 15 seniors and 12 juniors were inducted, each receiving a gold key symbolizing each student's role in achieving worldwide unity.

In addition, pins were presented to the 12 original members by a former member of the N.H.S., Robert Burkett.

The National Honor Society performed various services during the year. These included collecting of tickets at assembly programs, acting as ushers at the school's Open House and being timekeepers at Forensic meets held at Forest Hills. The group met on a regular basis to discuss activities and plan money-making programs. This year, as in the past, the N.H.S. sponsored a field trip for its members at the end of the term.

Humanitarian Club's Efforts Have Far-Reaching Effects

Begun several years ago with the sole purpose of sponsoring foster children, the Humanitarian Club has since mushroomed into a larger program and has become increasingly involved in a community effort to aid the needy of the immediate area.

Due to its large size, the club established various committees in order to get more of its members personally involved in projects. Each group worked independently on certain pet projects and as a unit on major projects. Responsibility was divided among chairmen and members.

A major event sponsored by the organization was the Foreign Exchange Program in which a student was selected to travel to a foreign country. This year Candy Gallaher was chosen to visit Venezuela.

Through its efforts the Humanitarian Club has had far-reaching effects and was an essential factor in influencing school activities this year.

Henry Polasko, Advisor

OFFICERS—Lucia Ann Cononie, Treasurer; Curt Beveridge, Vice President; Ellwood McGough, President and Mary Jo Cononie, Secretary.

Candy Gallaher Visits Venezuela

Candy Gallaher

Under the sponsorship of the Humanitarian Club and through the International Fellowship Exchange Program, Candy Gallaher was selected to visit Venezuela last summer.

During her three month stay in South America, Candy lived at the home of Senór Manuel Villa in Campo Shell, Venezuela. She attended Spanish classes three times weekly and her extracurricular activities included tennis, swimming, sailing and water skiing.

Candy shared in the customs and lifestyle very different from that of her own country and found vast differences in dress, manner and speech. Candy stated that the best part of her journey was the people she encountered.

At the conclusion of her visit, she was given a Despida, a good-bye party, quite a gala affair.

The trip will undoubtedly be a high light of Candy's high school days.

Committees Increase Active Participation in Organization

In an effort to increase a more active participation of its members, the Humanitarian Club formulated seven committees. Of these there were four non-fund raising groups

The Red Cross Committee donated its time and efforts in such projects as making valentines and stationery packages and worked in conjunction with the local chapter of the Red Cross. Its initial purpose was to motivate interest in the Red Cross in the hope of formulating a junior chapter.

By sending packages to our soldiers, the Vietnam Committee hoped to build the morale of these men in Vietnam. In these packages were items such as shaving cream, toothpaste, hard candy, stationery and other practical items. Approximately fifteen packages were sent to area soldiers stationed in Vietnam.

Writing to the club's four foster children was the responsibility of the Correspondence Committee. Letters mailed regularly sought to establish friendship between the children and their many foster parents.

The State School Committee volunteered its time to bring a little friendship to the mentally retarded children at the Ebensburg State School

Both the Blind and Cystic Fibrosis Committees sold candy and donated the profits to the respective organizations. The Reach Out to the Needy Committee collected toys and distributed them to the children at the County Home at Christmas time.

The above committees proved to bring about a more active participation of the members of the Humanitarian Club.

CORRESPONDENCE COMMITTEE—Sylvia Drozdik, Sara Jane Hughes, Marsha Rowland, Donna Knepper and Bobbie Hillegas.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN—Mary Helen Bialas (Reach Out to the Needy), Patty Seese (Blind), Bruce Dietrich (Vietnam), Sara Jane Hughes (Red Cross), Sylvia Drozdik (Correspondence), Pat Capatch (State School) and Karen Jennings (Cystic Fibrosis).

Mark Grasser

Trust Fund Set Up

Forest Hills High School Humanitarian Club in conjunction with the Richland High School Key Club initiated a fund drive to raise money for sixteen year old Mark Grasser.

In September of 1969, Mark, a student at Forest Hills Junior High, sustained a serious injury from a swimming accident resulting in extensive paralysis from the neck on down. Over the past year and a half, Mark has spent months in local hospitals. After recuperating this summer, Mark was able to become the first known person in the state with his condition to return to school. This year he attended Richland High School where he was a sophomore. He attended Richland since the new school was able to handle a student in a wheel chair, for it is possible to move freely throughout the building by means of ramps.

The expenses involved in hospital care, monthly medication as well as an addition built on his home to better accommodate Mark caused his family considerable financial hardship.

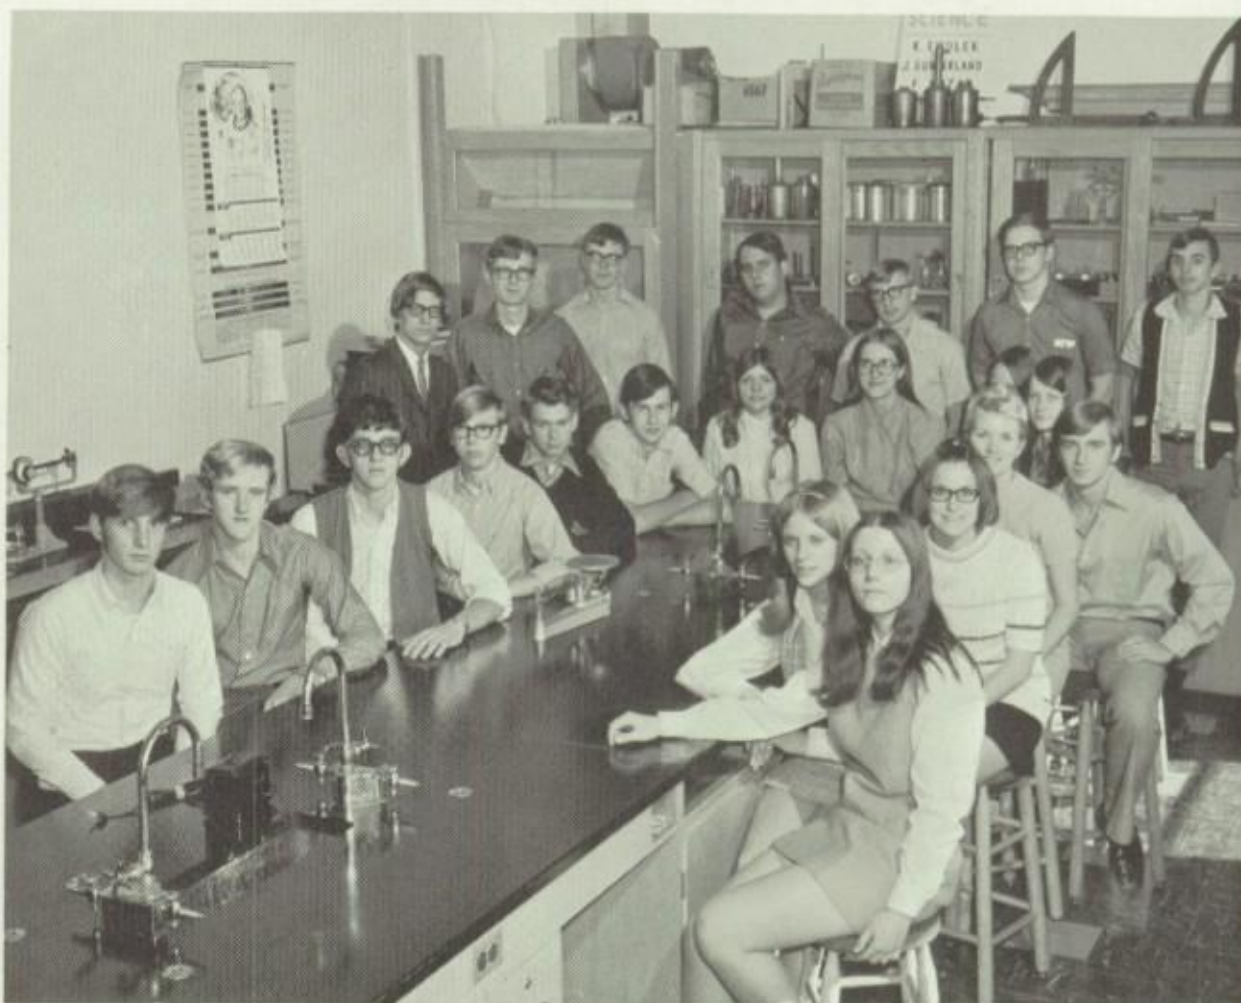

With this purpose in mind the clubs of the two high schools initiated a fund drive and set up a trust fund for Mark.

Rocketeers Are Outgrowth of JETS Club

The Rocket Club, now in its second year, was an outgrowth of the JETS Club. Its primary goal is to establish interest in model rocketry as well as promote safety in the usage of model rockets.

In early spring 30 members with their advisor, Paul Yuhas, travelled to Pittsburgh to attend the Steel City Meet which featured a discussion workshop.

Under the direction of Regis Endler the JETS Club held its annual Science Fair in mid-April. It centered about the prevention of air pollution. By means of various projects the members demonstrated the causes and effects of pollution. No stipulations were made to the type of projects and all departments entered. All participants were awarded a tour of the Goddard Space Flight Institute in Maryland.

Spanish NHS Views Film

On October 15 the Spanish National Honor Society and its advisor, Paul Robinson, attended a Spanish Film Festival at Indiana University to view the film, "Pelo de Verano." Some thirty members made the trip.

Membership requirement in the organization is 2½ years of Spanish in which an A-B average must be maintained.

In order to purchase pins for senior members and to help pay other expenses a sub sale was held in February.

The purpose of the society is to recognize high academic achievement in Spanish.

Girls Volunteer Services

This year ten girls volunteered their services as student secretaries to Mr. Sam Plummer, high school vice-principal. The girls, six seniors and four underclassmen, donated their study hall time to serve as secretaries.

Chosen for their reliability, honesty and industry, these girls were a tremendous help to Mr. Plummer. Their duties included filing excuses, answering the telephone, distributing absentee lists and running errands in general. They used their free time for study or a visit to the library.

These student secretaries appeared to enjoy their work and should be commended for their valuable services.

Responsibility Acquired

Eighteen student librarians assisted Mr. Henry Polasko, school librarian, during their free periods.

Among their duties were the checking out of books, finding needed reference materials for fellow students and keeping the book shelves and magazine rack in good order.

These students acquired a sense of responsibility through their efforts to help others. They should be recognized for services rendered to their school and student body.

Forensic League Improves Greatly

The Forest Hills Forensic League has been in existence only two years, but in those two years the team has won high standing in county competition. With the help of their new coach, Mr. Henry Polasko, and with many hours of practice, the team's speaking abilities have improved significantly.

Forest Hills competed with five other area high schools in the Cambria County Public High School Forensic League tournaments. These schools included Westmont, Portage Area, Ferndale Area, Blacklick Valley and Central Cambria. Forest Hills hosted one of the four meets held this year. A county elimination tournament was held at St. Francis College, Loretto on March 24.

At the meets each school competed in four categories—informative, persuasive and extemporaneous speaking and dramatic interpretation.

Radio Club Doubles Its Membership

Now in its second year the Radio Club has more than doubled its membership over its initial year. The club was open to anyone but it preferred students interested in a possible career of broadcasting.

"Student Notes", a program around which the group functioned, gave the members an opportunity to gain some experience "behind the mike." It was aired each Friday morning over the school's public address system and included notes of interest about the school, student editorials and special school happenings. Following the "notes" the song of the week was played for the students' enjoyment.

The officers of the organization were Christopher Seese, president; Sharon Smith, vice president; Arthur Ardire, treasurer and Jeanette Gilpatrick, secretary.

The club proved an excellent means for interested students to show their ability in public speaking as well as to develop a sense of self confidence.

Program director, Christopher Seese, and Jeanette Gilpatrick prepare to broadcast "Student Notes."

SEATED: Gloria Ross, Jeanette Gilpatrick, Sandy Kuhn, Denise Penatzer, Christopher Seese, Sharon Smith, Chris Theys and Ida Wright. STANDING: Georgetta Minor, William Hoffman and Sandra Wilson.

Skiers Gain Experience

Again this year the Ski Club participated in the 4-week ski school program at the Blue Knob Ski Resort. On the average, 60 students journeyed to the slopes on consecutive Wednesday nights in January. The novices learned the fundamentals of the sport and the more experienced members acquired new skills and gained additional experience.

As a new venture this year, the group traveled to the Hidden Valley Ski Resort near Somerset in February.

Club advisor, Robert Myers, was in charge of the trips.

OFFICERS—Mark Patterson, Vice President; Robert Myers, Advisor; Doug Smith, President; Susie Dimond, Secretary and Frank Myers, Treasurer.

Having acquired their skis, the club members are divided into groups for their lessons. Out on the slopes the skiers are grouped according to their ability. After an evening of skiing the students relax at the ski lodge.

Juniors Present 3-Act Comedy

As their junior year drew to a close the class of '71 presented a three-act comedy, "No Boys Allowed." Under the direction of Mr. Vespa and student director, Denise Penatzer, a rather typical slumber party becomes slightly complicated as food and people begin to disappear. Curtains rose to a comfortable living room scene where Rita (Susie Johnson) and her younger sister, Jane (Peggy Hill) are planning a pajama party. Since their parents are away, the only person to chaperone the girls is Ellie May (Dale Custer), their easily frightened housekeeper. The party gets underway with a heated discussion of THE topic, boys. Of course the conversation touches upon the recent fight between Rita and her boyfriend, Fred Dana (Art Ardire). Meanwhile, that sneaky, slinking villain Mr. Midnight (Ron Plishka) has crept unawares into the house. Mysterious events follow as food, guests, and housekeeper disappear into the shadowy depths of the hall closet.

Leading roles were played by Susie Johnson, Art Ardire, Peggy Hill, and Brenda Kunkle.

Patsy (Peggy Dierling) confronts Sheriff Wallace (Bob Christina), saying, "Look pal, you don't know beans about being sheriff," as others look on.

Elly Mae (Dale Custer), Belinda (Brenda Kunkle), Edwina (Susie Dimond) and Rita (Susie Johnson) are frightened by a spook (Dennis Toth). The spook says that he's cold and Elly Mae retorts, "I ain't no furnace."

Fred (Art Ardire) and Leroy (Dennis Toth) discover crime doesn't pay when they are captured by Patsy (Peggy Dierling), Jane (Peggy Hill) and Elly Mae (Dale Custer).

Colonel Foxhall (Denny Toth) tries to wheedle a million dollars out of "tight wad" Drysdale (Tom Grattan) as Miss Hathway, "the spinster", (Phyllis Lingler) looks on.

The "snob of the year", Mrs. Drysdale, (Dale Custer) tells her husband (Tom Grattan) that they won't associate with the "country bumpkins".

"The Beverly Hillbillies" Presented

Granny (Dianne Mucko) revives Pearl (Mickey Moss) with some "good ole mountain dew" after her fainting spell caused by Jed's (Jude Basile) new found wealth while Jethro (Kevin Cann) and Elly Mae (Susie Dimond) look on with concern.

Mr. Brewster (George Valko) congratulates Mr. Clampett (Jude Basile) on his new found wealth.

Under the direction of Mr. Vespa the newly organized Drama Club staged its first production on December 3rd.

The play entitled "The Beverly Hillbillies" had an all senior cast with Denise Penatzer and Denise Carpenter acting as student directors.

The audience followed the Clampetts from their simple cabin in the Ozark Mountains to the swank home in Beverly Hills where their hillbilly ways naturally resulted in considerable hilarity.

Making a fortune as the result of a rich oil strike on their Ozark property, the Clampetts decided to move to rich Beverly Hills. Here they encountered a few problems but they came through each ordeal with little or no trouble and eventually became accustomed to their new life.

"Lookout" Sets High Goals

To inform was the ultimate goal of the Lookout. It sought to express the facts in their true perspective. It had to reflect the attitudes and opinions of the entire school. All efforts were co-ordinated toward these goals.

The combined efforts of twenty-six students turned out eight editions of the Lookout. Three hundred copies were sold each month. Participation in an exchange program with ten schools and one college enabled staff members to obtain new ideas.

The editorial staff, reporters and typists shared the responsibilities of editing the paper. Making layouts and revising stories were duties of the editorial staff. Being on the alert for fresh news kept the reporters busy, and typing the articles into column form was the task of the typists.

As editor Gail supervised all phases of the yearbook with emphasis on theme, school life section and layouts. Sylvia Drozdik was selected Copy Editor and Ronald Plishka, Business Manager. The major portion of the staff was divided into five committees. Each committee had a chairman and was responsible for a specific section of the yearbook.

A total of 575 yearbooks were ordered this year, most of which were personalized with student names.

Ronald Plishka was the BUSINESS MANAGER for the '71 FORESTER. He was in charge of sales, patrons and other finances.

"Caernarvon Castle" was the theme of the Senior Prom which was held on the evening of May 1, 1971. The prom committee, made up of the junior class officers and other interested juniors, spent many hours working to decorate the gym appropriately in the color scheme of Kelly green and deep pink. The Motif was that of a medieval Welsh castle and the surrounding forest.

All the details, such as decorations, reservations and refreshments were handled by the junior committee who also acted as hostesses for the affair.

Presiding over the prom was the Queen, Gloria Ross, who was crowned by Patricia Jastrzebski, last year's queen.

Chorus Is Both Fun and Hard Work

A mixture of fun and hard work best typifies the chorus classes here at Forest Hills. Rehearsals are held first period each morning. Arthur Gatty, the director, usually throws in a "Gatty" joke now and then to add a little flavor to the practices.

There are also many hours of rehearsals after school in order to prepare for major programs which include the Christmas Concert and the Spring Concert—Variety Show.

Of the 125 members in the senior high chorus some 40 members are boys.

Annual Christmas Concert Presented

On December 17 the Forest Hills choral groups under the direction of Mr. Arthur Gatty presented an hour long Christmas concert.

A capacity crowd enjoyed the holiday program which featured seasonal as well as Christmas songs. The concert was in two parts, the first of which had a religious motif and included such songs as "Come to the Stable", "Mary Had a Baby", "All Glory to God", "O Holy Night" and "Hodie Christus Natus Est".

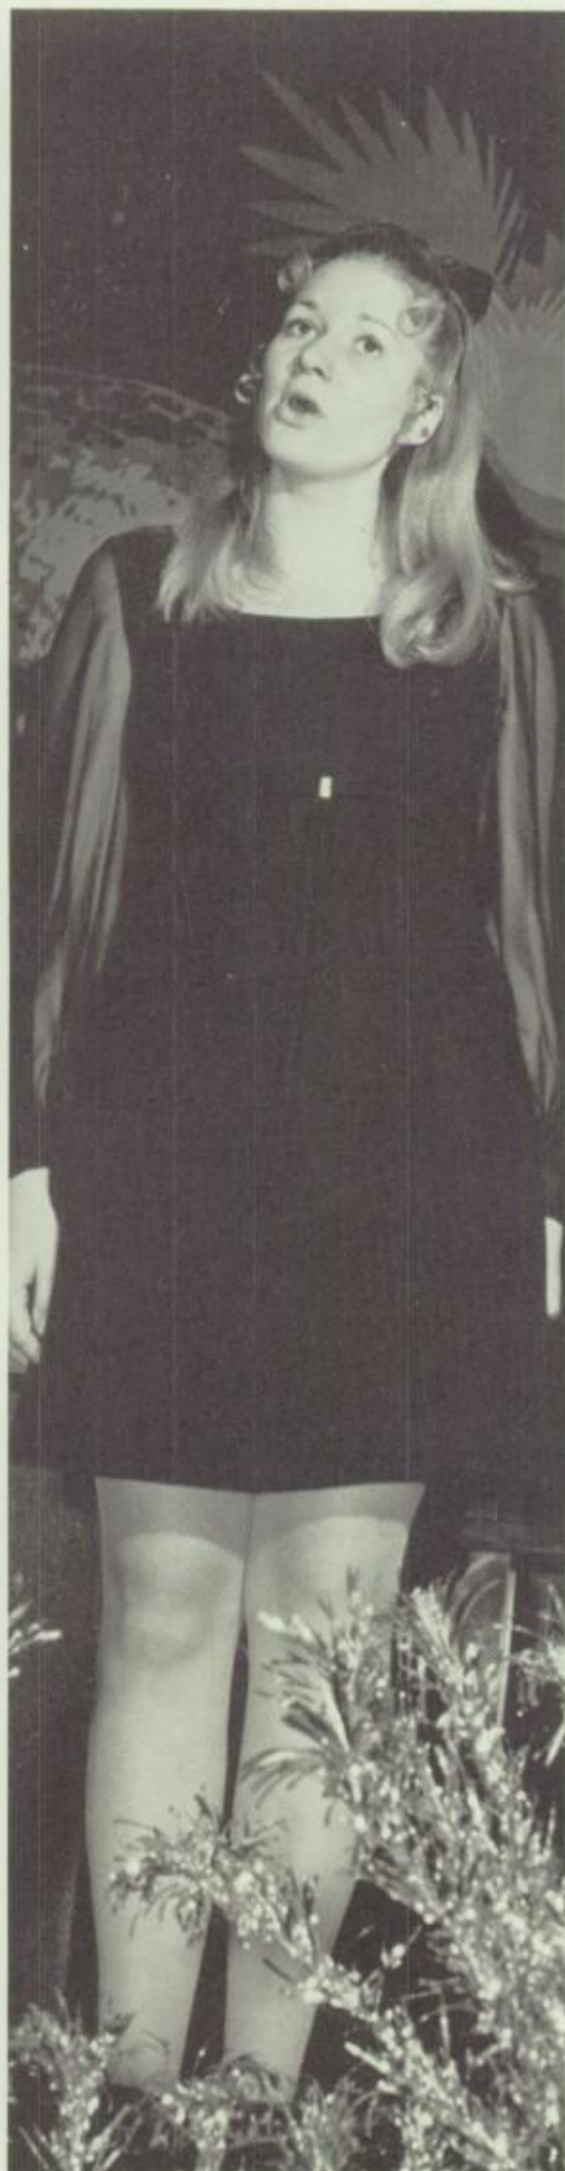

During the second portion the chorus sang "Sleigh Ride", "Christmas in Killarney", "Marshmellow World" and old favorites, "White Christmas" and "Winter Wonderland".

The junior high chorus also sang several numbers among which were "Mistletoe Polka", "Hark in the Darkness" and "It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas".

A humorous remark by Mr. Gatty has a group of the chorus members laughing as they prepare for their Christmas concert.

Solos and Duets Featured

Soloist, Cindy Miller, sings "O Holy Night" in the religious portion of the program.

On the lighter side, Denise Ruddeck and Patti Myers team up in a duet, "Frosty the Snowman".

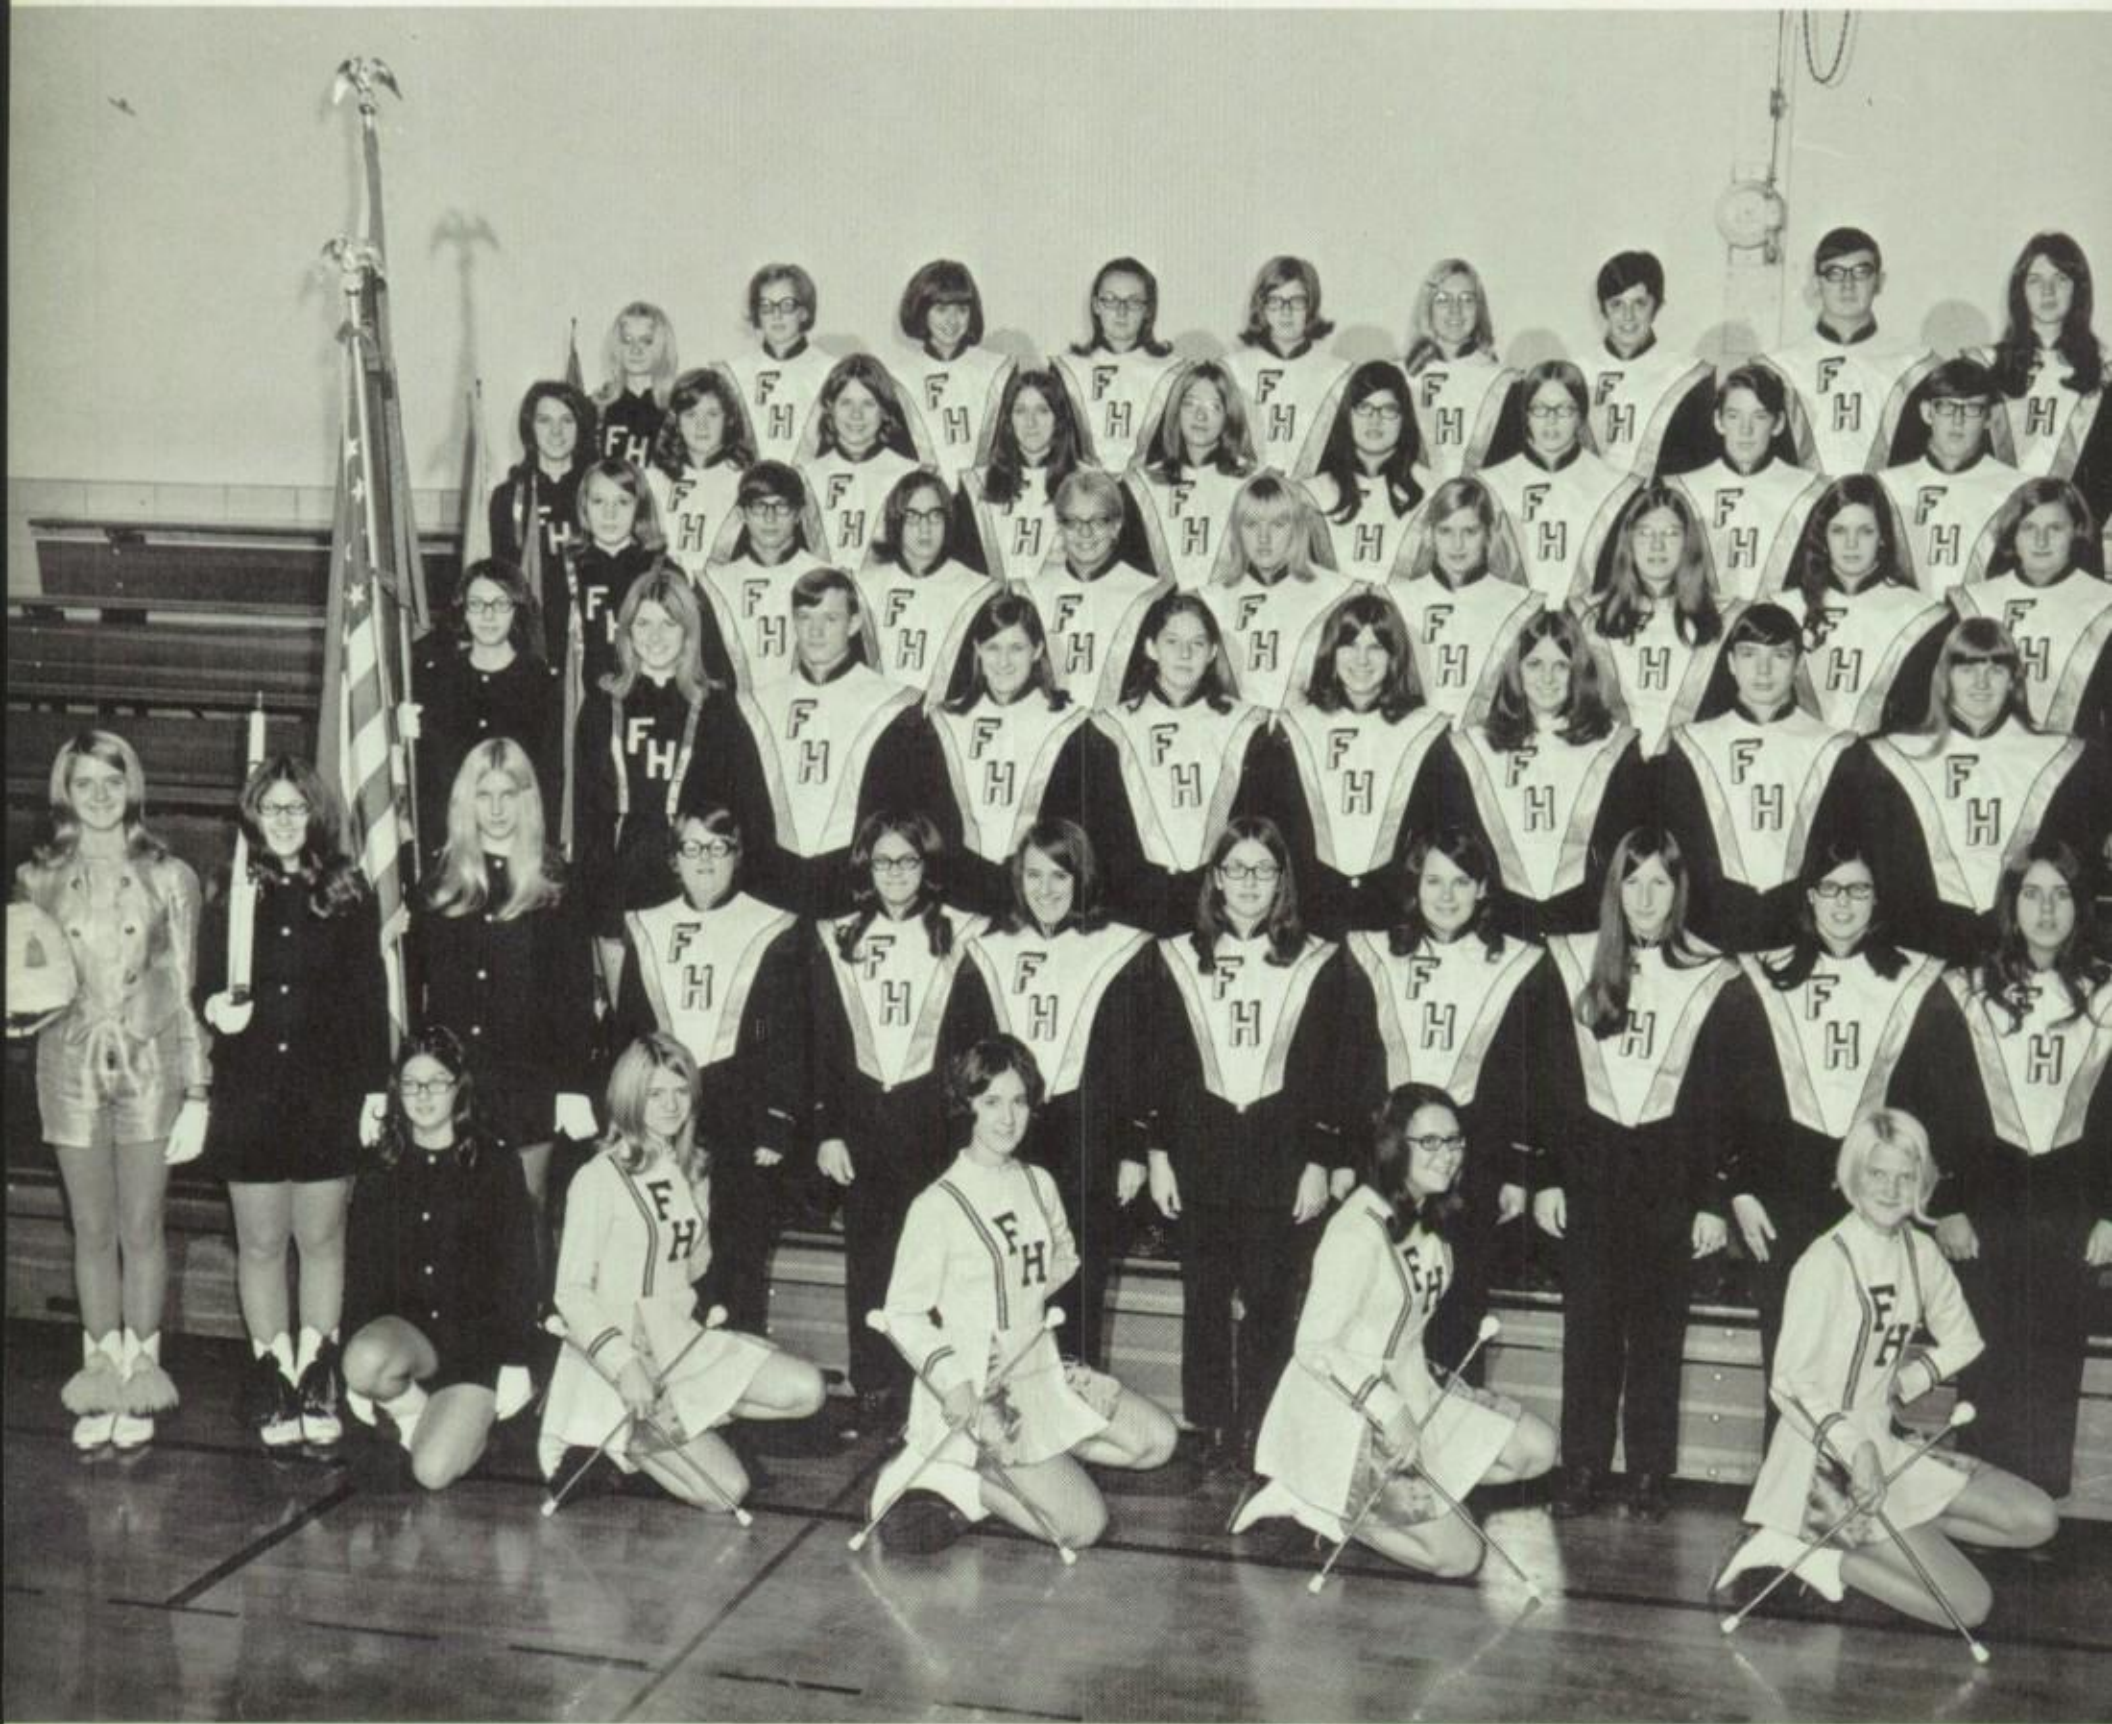

To keep in tune with the rock and roll era Denny Toth sings the "Jingle Bell Rock".

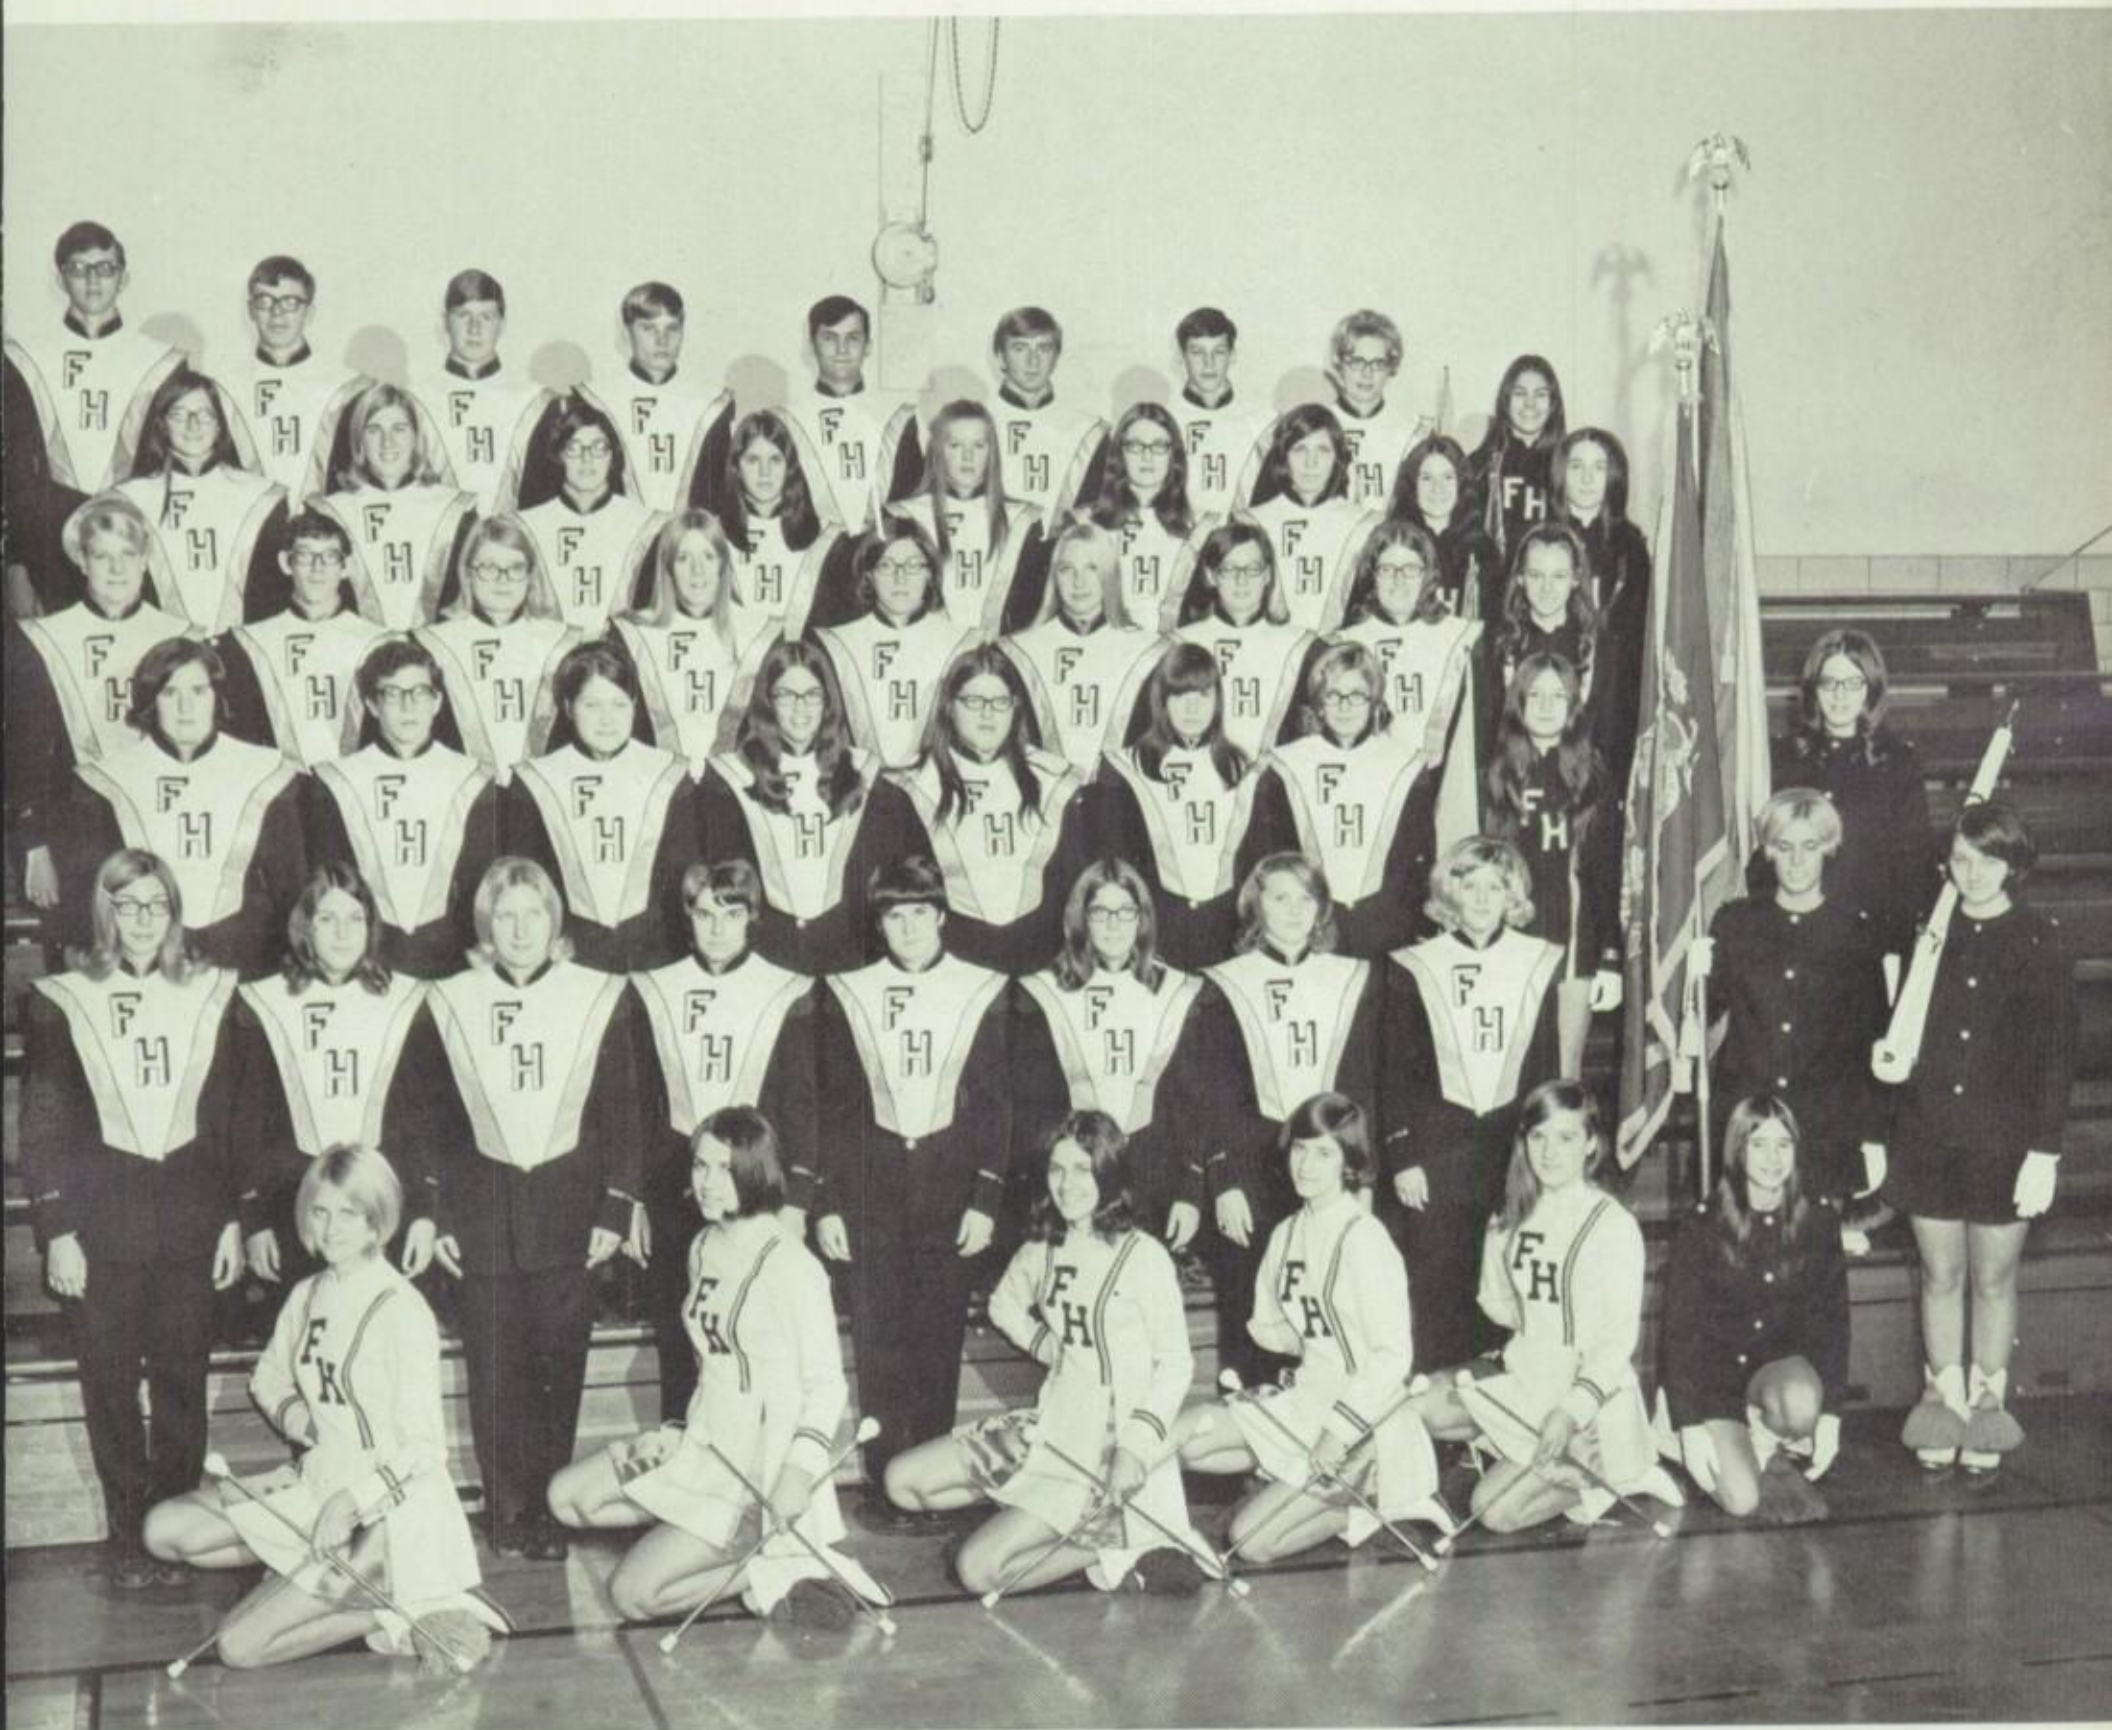

A seasonal song, "Baby It's Cold Outside", is sung by Candy Gallaher and Kevin Cann to open the second half of the program.

Band Attends Festival in Virginia

For the second straight year the Forest Hills High School Band received an invitation to attend the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival and to march in the Grand Feature Parade held on Saturday, May 8 in Winchester, Virginia.

The Forest Hills Band competed with numerous other units in this 44th annual Apple Blossom Parade.

Many hours of practice and drilling were necessary in order to achieve a good performance in the parade.

To raise the necessary funds to make the trip to Virginia the 120 members of the band sold some 2400 boxes of candy and netted one thousand dollars for their efforts.

Johnson Is Captain

Susan Johnson, a senior, headed the majorettes this year with the help of senior co-captains, Pamela Crute and Gail Anderson.

During the summer the girls purchased new outfits of green culottes and gold blouses.

The nine member squad spent many hours working on routines for football games and parades. Practicing for the Majorette Contest also required hours of practice after school. The contest was held in early spring at the War Memorial in Johnstown. All area schools participated.

Color Guard Uses New Routine

Instead of doing their routine as a separate group this year, the color guard marched as an integral part of the band.

Led by captain, Leona Louder, and co-captains, Joni Pastovic and Sharon Croyle, the color guard practiced regularly with the band.

Junior members of the group included Melody Giles, Paula Brummert, Nancy Miller and Karen Bastian, a substitute.

Pamela Hutzell and Kathy Valko were sophomore members and Barbara Zolar also a sophomore, was a substitute.

This year new flags were purchased, all of the same design.

Theme Is Unity

With unity as their theme the flag twirlers with colorful green and gold flags marched proudly throughout the year.

Captain, Jeanette Gilpatrick, with co-captains, Valerie Fresch and Ruth Ann Nalepa, worked out routines used at football games and in parades.

New uniforms of green corduroy boleros and culottes were purchased by the girls with proceeds of a summer bakesale.

The group now has three sets of uniforms and so are able to add more color and variety to the marching unit.

Stage Band Plays In Jazz Concert

A big attraction in the Forest Hills instrumental music department this year was the stage band which was under the direction of Mr. Phillip Mollers. Of the nineteen members in the group, five were trumpeters, four trombonists, five saxophone players and five played in the rhythm section. The group participated in the annual Band Concert held in early spring. However, the major event was their participation in the Jazz Concert held in Johnstown in early March.

The Forest Hills stage band played in the first portion of this program which included performances by stage bands from several high schools in the area. In the second part of the program the Johnstown's Jazz Workshop performed.

The Forest Hills High School Chorus, directed by Mr. Arthur Gatty, accompanied the stage band on the trip. One of the three numbers played was a duet of the two Forest Hills groups.

Under the direction of Mrs. Penny Matlin they began practicing during the summer. Many hours of practice were also spent after school in order to perfect their cheers.

There were six seniors and six juniors on the varsity squad which was headed by Debbie Theys and Mary Jo Canonie, captain and co-captain respectively.

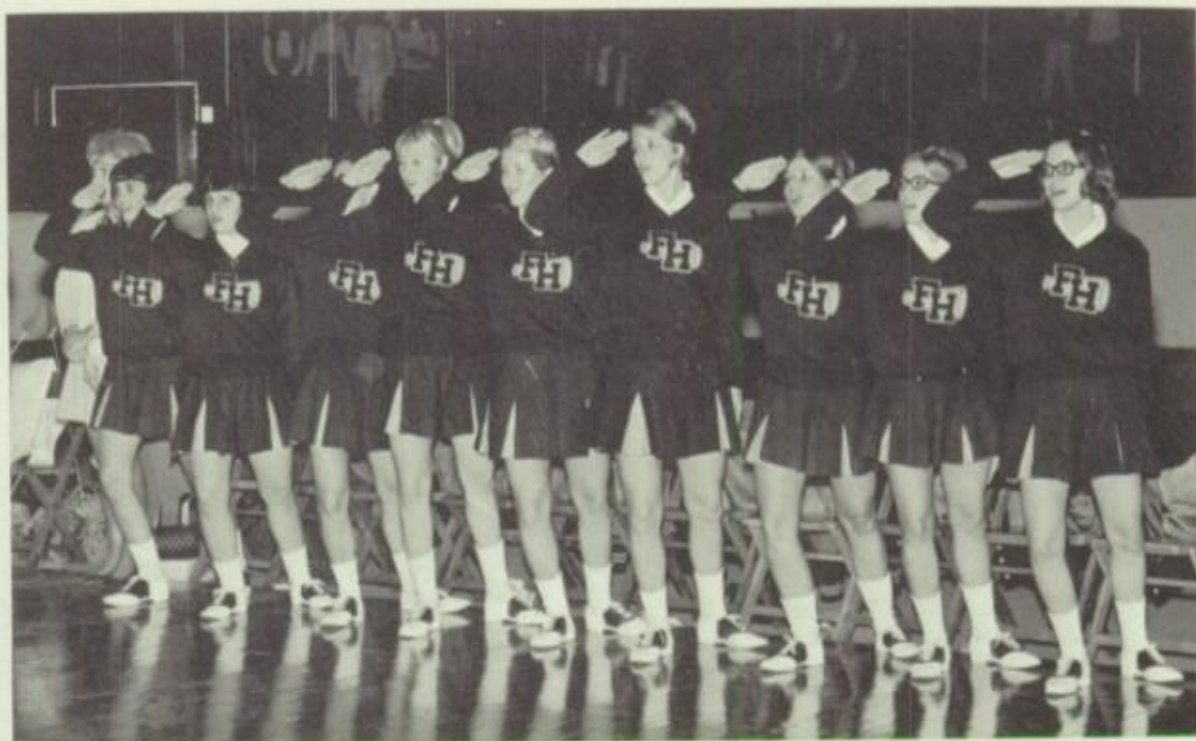

The J.V. squad was chosen at the end of football season and performed at the J.V. basketball games.

Girl Cagers Under New Coach

Miss Gloria Foss in her first season as girls' basketball coach witnessed a losing season with an 0-10 record. The team, only in its second season, lacked the necessary experience for a winning combination.

Of the four seniors Joanne Torma was the only varsity member. Other seniors included Janet Chulick, Joyce Myers and Vickie Krajewski.

The juniors were led by Betsy Madigan, second high scorer with 36 points. The other juniors were Mary Helen Bialas, Kathy Claycomb, Trish Cornell, Gloria Croyle, Kathy Jessell, Mary Kakabar, Alice Katrancha, Marsha Rowland, Ruth Wiesheier and Erlene Tranter.

Debbie Huff, Barbara Nastase and Karen Korenoski were the sophomore members.

Gloria Foss, coach, looks on intently during the Altoona game. Forest Hills lost 55-22. Miss Foss is a junior high physical education instructor. She attended the University of Seattle where she played on the girl's basketball team.

Joanne Torma dribbles past her opponent and goes on to score two of her nine points in the Altoona contest. Joanne, a senior, was high scorer for the Rangers for the season with 73 points. Her high game was against Laurel Valley in which she scored 12.

Wrestlers Fight Thru Rough Season

Despite its poor season, which showed a 1-12 record, the Forest Hills matters found the sport most rewarding. This group of hard working athletes kept a persistent pace in spite of its many setbacks.

The team, led by two seniors, Dave Stuchinski and Art Moss, fought through a rough season. The combined wins of Stuchinski (11) and Moss (8) were over half of the victories scored by the team. Dave Stuchinski earned the senior top wrestler award on the recommendation of Coach Bero. Other seniors on the varsity squad were Kirby Swope, Byron Thomas, Art Ardire and John Kalwanaski. There were also four juniors and two sophomores on the team.

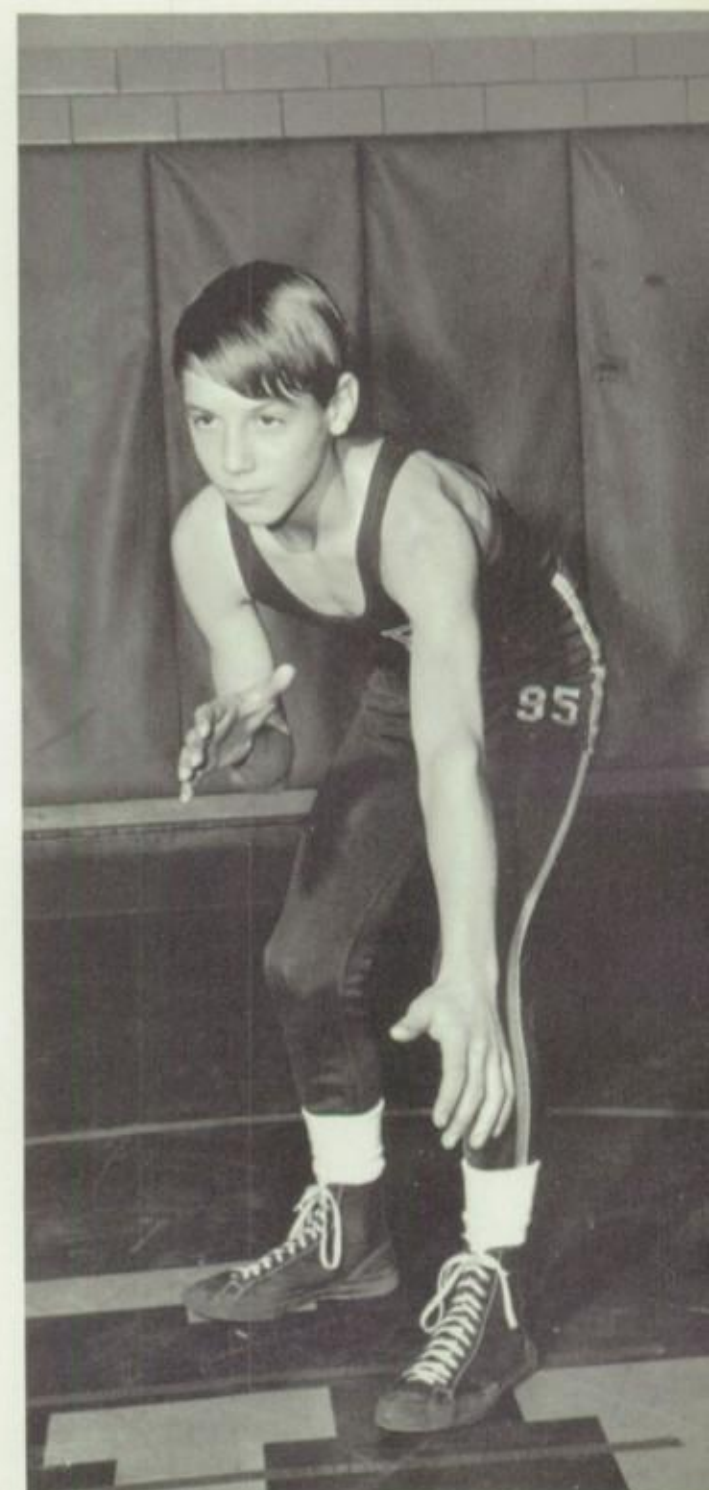

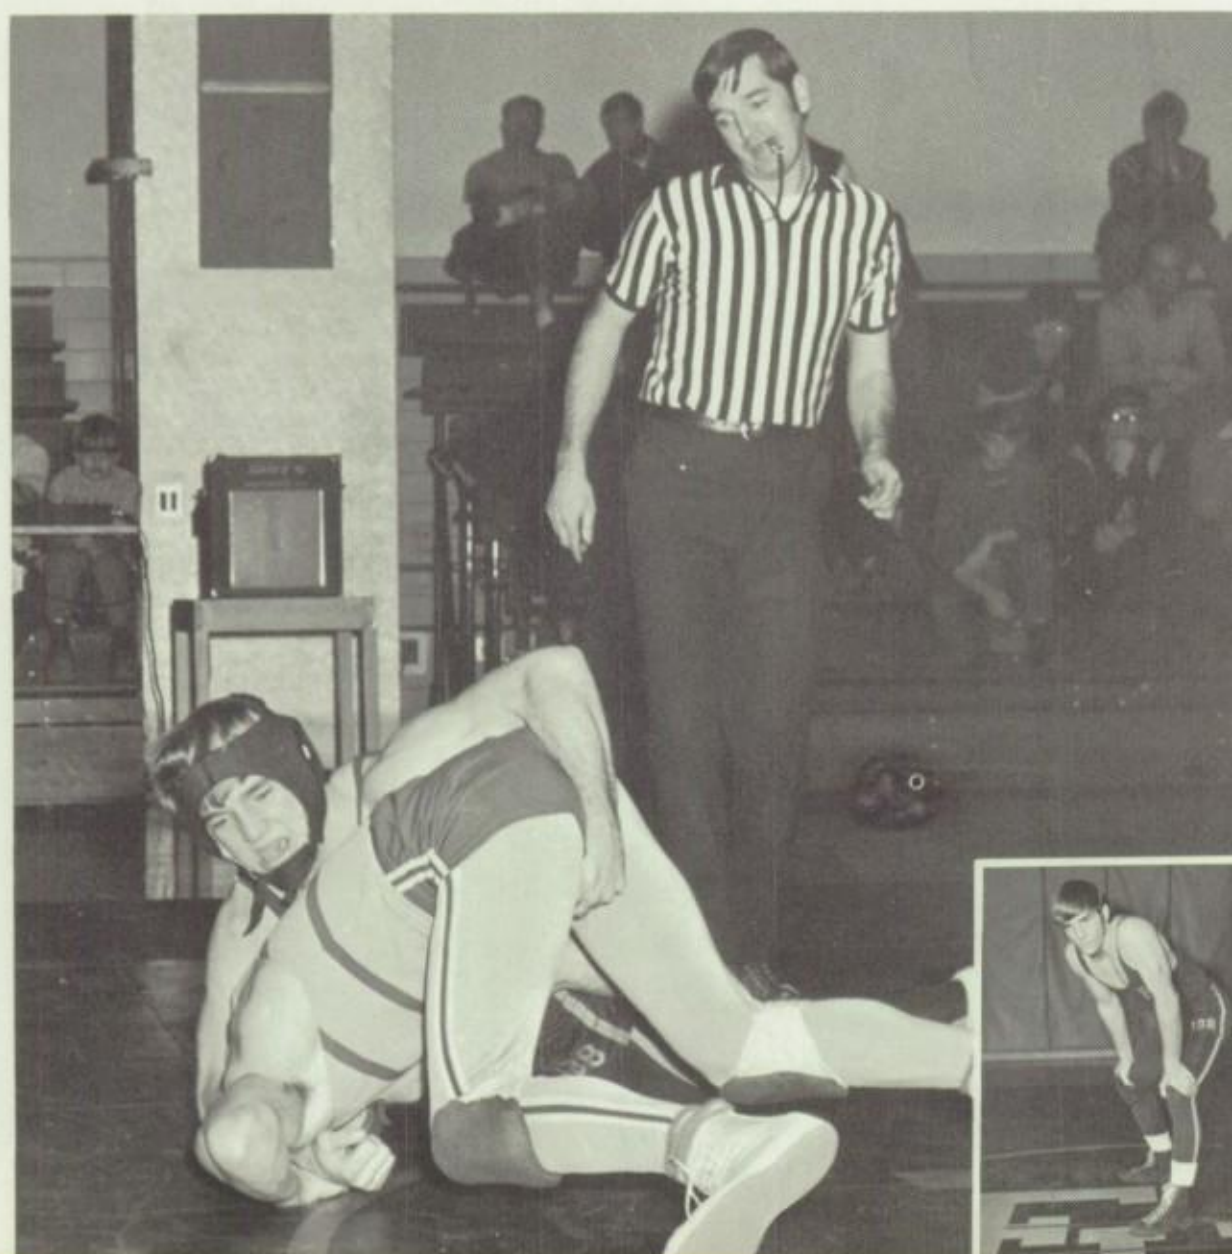

Even though wrestling had failed to produce a winning season, it has proven its worth. It provided an activity for many boys who could not participate in other sports due to size limitations. Wrestling has found its place in the school's program of sports.

In his second year of wrestling Len Nadonley showed a 5-10 record and included in his five wins were one pin and four decisions. He ranked number three among the wrestlers for the 1971 campaign.

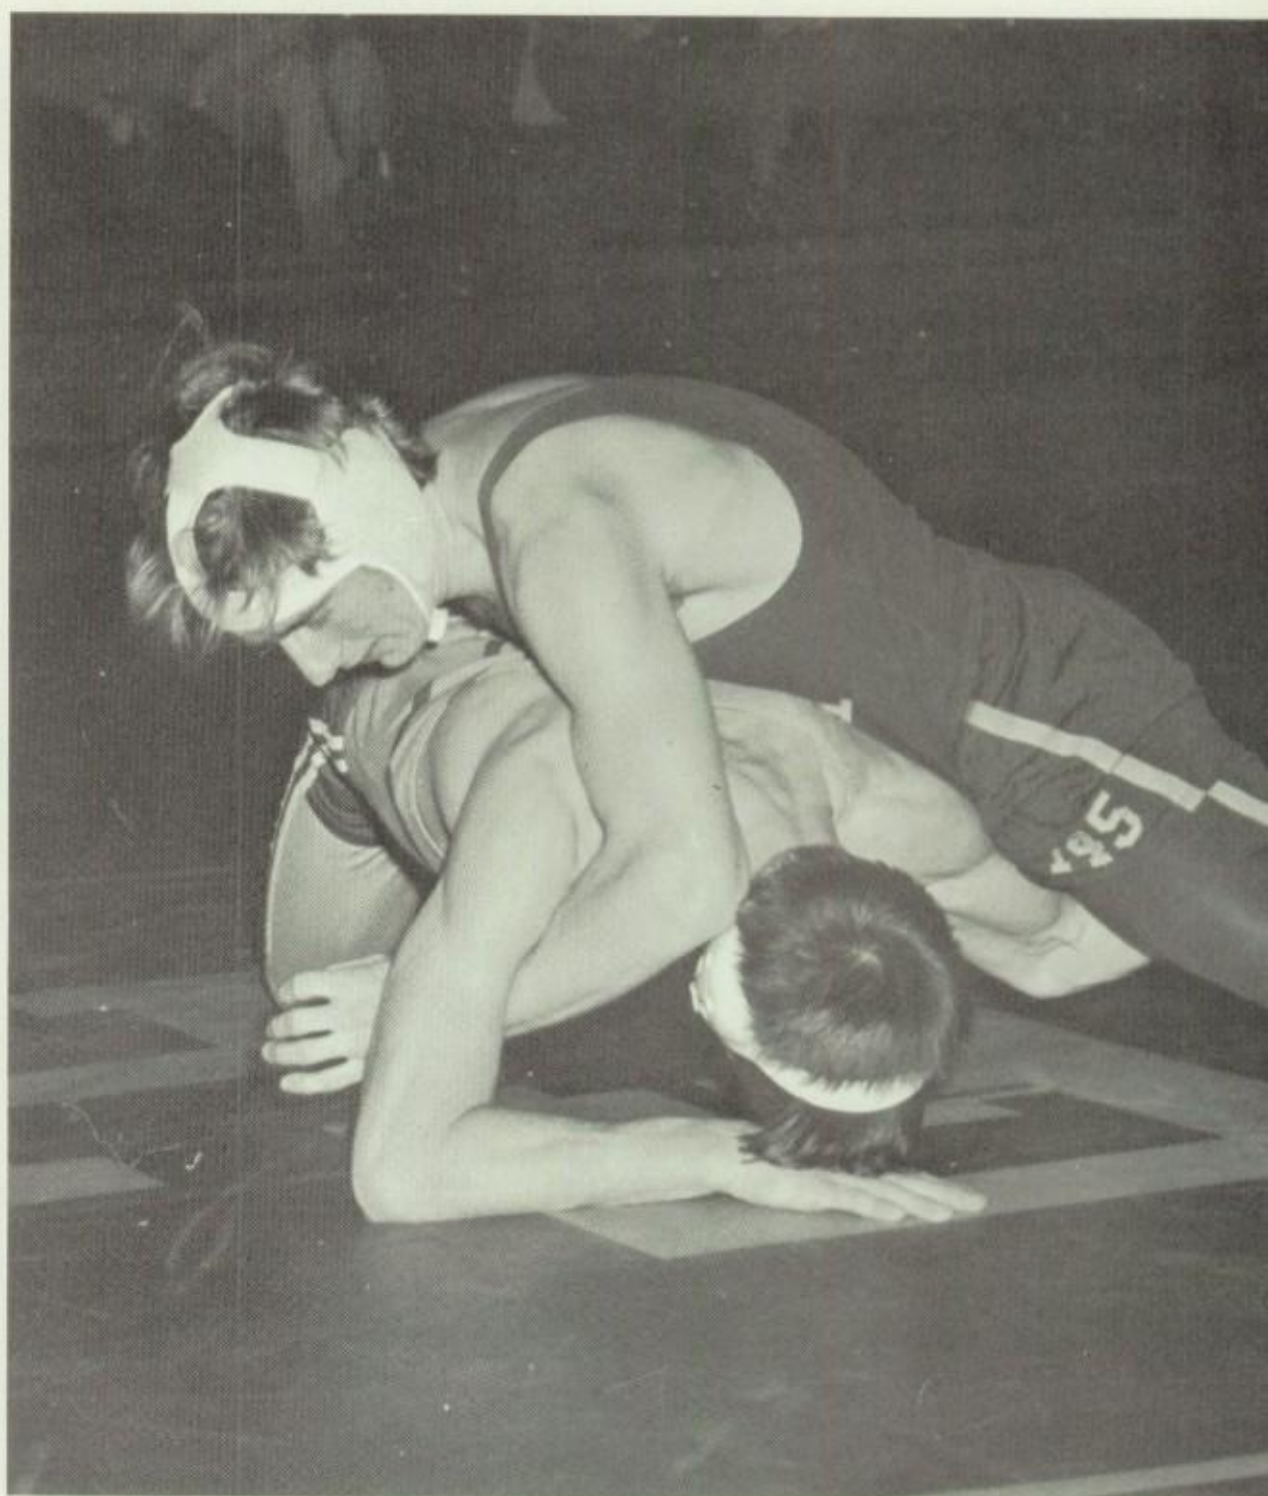

Art Moss, a three year veteran, was the number two wrestler this year. He sported an 8-4 record in regular season competition. Art had two pins to his credit in his eight victories.

Stuchinski Is Top Wrestler

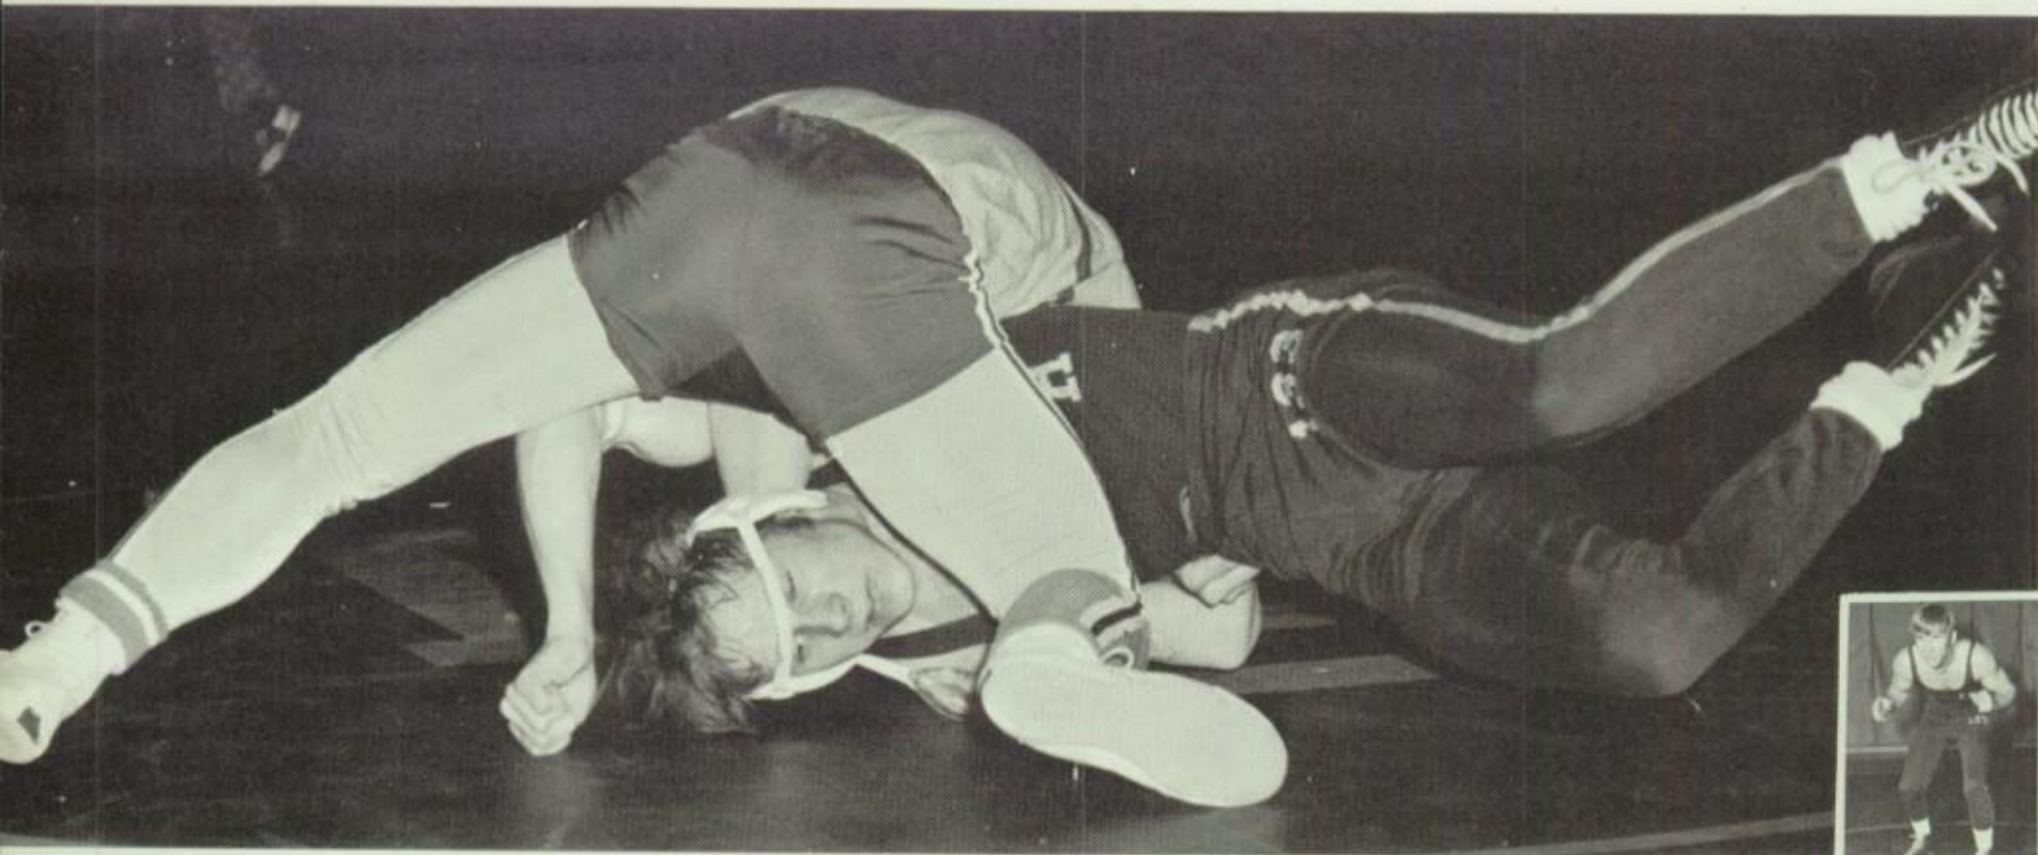

Dave Stuchinski, who wrestled in the 145 weight class, received the outstanding senior wrestler award offered by the school. Robert Bero, wrestling coach, made the selection on the basis of leadership, attitude, desire and over-all record. Dave was also awarded the honor of outstanding wrestler by the Tri-County Wrestling Conference based also on the above attributes.

During the regular campaign, Dave was the number one wrestler of the Forest Hills's squad. He showed a season record of 11-4-1. He led in pins with six for the dual matches.

Dave, a three year veteran, was a member of the varsity club this year and proved to be the mainstay of the wrestling team. He was a credit to his team as well as to his school.

Dave Stuchinski tries for a "take down" in his match in the Cambria Heights encounter. However, he was decisioned by his opponent by 8-1 count.

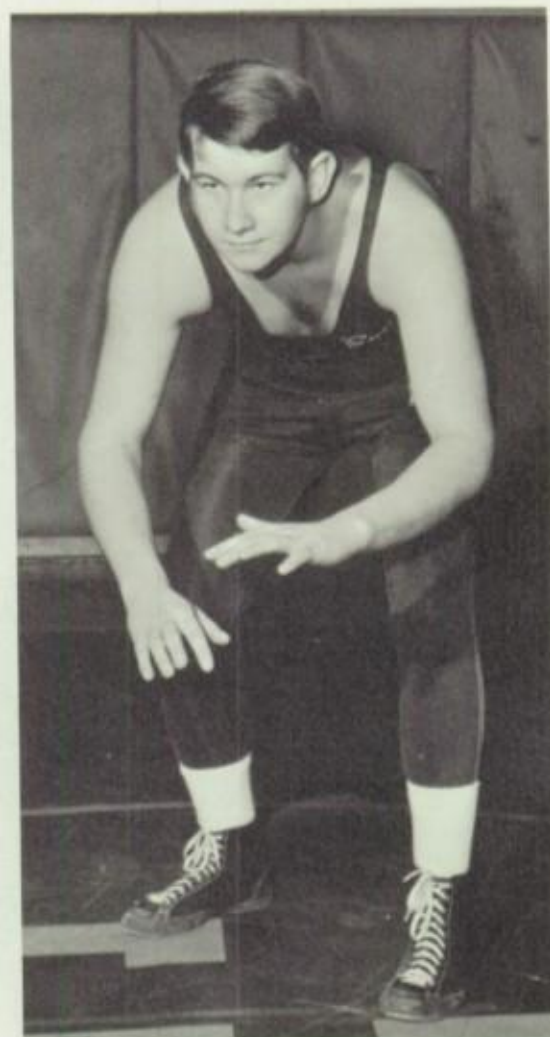

Kirby Swope is in a tough predicament and eventually loses his match on a decision. Kirby, in his third year of wrestling, showed a season record of three wins and seven losses.

Coach Bero patiently awaits the outcome of match in the 110 weight class during the Cambria Heights contest. Forest Hills lost by a 56-3 score.

1970 Track Team Shows 3-2 Record

The 1970 track team, plagued by injuries, managed to come through the season with a 3-2 Dual Meet record. The Rangers competed in Class A in the District Meet again and qualified three men for the State Meet.

The 1971 Ranger thin clad lettermen are led by returning sprinter Ken Kuhn, who competed in the State Meet. Other Senior lettermen are sprinters: Tom Grattan, Curt Burkey, Jude Basile, and George Roberts. Distance runners are Carl Bopp and Dean Haman; Mike Brezovic in the discus; and pole vaulter, Mike Zubal. Junior lettermen returning are Pat Weyandt and Ray Wilson in the distance runs, Ed Fiffick in the hurdle and Jim Townsend in the jumping events.

The Rangers will need strength all around to come through with a good 1971 season.

Baseball Nine Has 11-4 Season

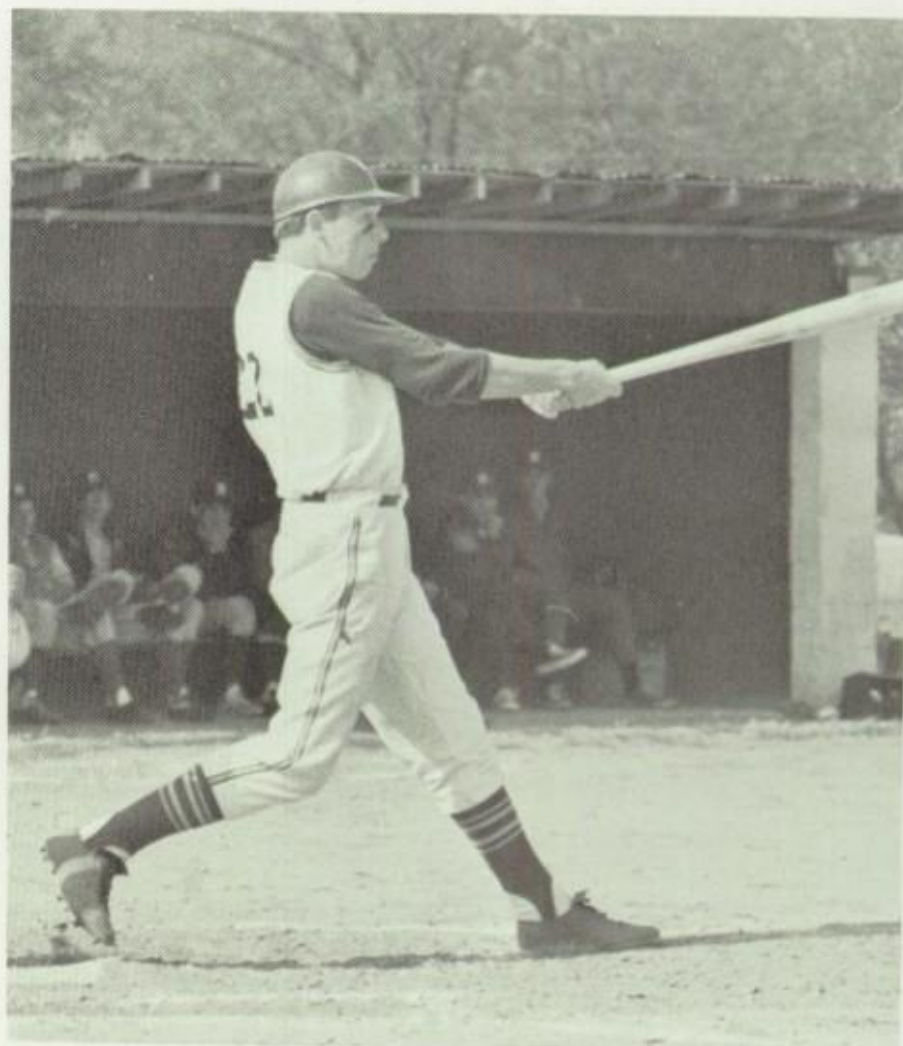

The 11-4 1970 final standing of Forest Hills Baseball Team was the best recorded by the Ranger nine in the school's four year jointure.

The Rangers won the first seven starts before bowing to arch-rival Portage by a 1-0 score. The Rangers avenged this loss later in the season by beating Portage 5-4. However, a second loss to Central Cambria (4-3) and a final loss to Penn Cambria by the same 4-3 score led to a section tie between Forest Hills and Penn Cambria. In the Section I playoff Forest Hills bowed to Penn Cambria 6-5 to eliminate them from further competition.

Six seniors of the '70 class were on the squad, one of whom was Denny Rolla, who led the batting with a .388 average.

The 1971 season looks favorable in the hitting department with four three hundred hitters returning. These include Elwood McGough, Frank Dupnock, Kevin Cann and Doug Smith. Ken Sliko who had a 1-0 record in pitching will be the lone veteran pitcher to return. Other seniors returning for the 1971 season are Greg Facciani, Dan Usnik, Mark Patterson, Mike Milstead and Jim Turner.

With any kind of luck in the pitching department the Rangers should make a good showing in the 1971 season.

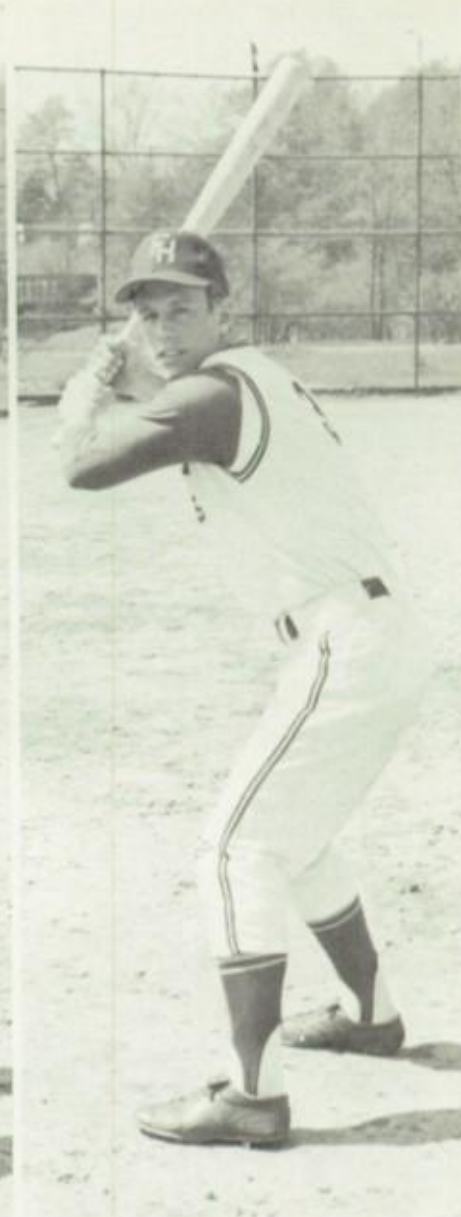

Denny Rolla was top hitter for the team with a .388 average. In his 49 trips to the plate Denny had 19 hits, including 3 doubles, 4 triples and a home run. He struck out only 5 times. His 15 runs and 16 RBI's for the season were high for the team. He also led the pitching staff with a 5-2 record.

Green & Gold Focus Published Monthly

Printed monthly, the Green and Gold Focus was the combined effort of some forty students in grades, seven, eight and nine. Headed by editor and co-editor, Debbie Keller and Karen Ohler respectively, the staff wrote and compiled the necessary articles for each ten page edition.

Reporters had a two week deadline in which to turn in completed articles. These included news, editorials, features and sports. Another week was devoted to layouts, typing and mimeographing.

An innovation occurred this year in that the senior high school commercial department did all the necessary typing.

Miss Rose Simsic of the English department was the faculty advisor of the student publication which cost 10¢ per copy. An average of 500 copies were printed each month.

Promoting School Spirit Is Aim of Pep Club

PEP CLUB OFFICERS—SEATED: Gay Stravinsky, President; Mrs. Jamie Dubbs, Advisor; Kathy Knepper, Vice President; Suni Fretzel, Secretary; Sue Gargon, Treasurer; Mary Ann Pollack and Darlene Denne, Point Secretaries.

Promoting school spirit was the main objective of the Pep Club, the largest organization of F.H.J.H.S.

Led by the cheerleaders the club faithfully and enthusiastically backed the basketball and football teams.

Pep rallies were held throughout the year to foster school spirit. At these rallies the pep club officers provided skits to enliven the program. They also made signs for the different games. The club likewise raised funds to buy new pom-poms for the cheerleading squad.

F.H.J.H.S. Band numbered 105 members from eighth and ninth grades. Under the direction of Mr. James Cannin, the band met on Monday, Wednesday and every other Friday for rehearsals. Private lessons were given during a student's study hall.

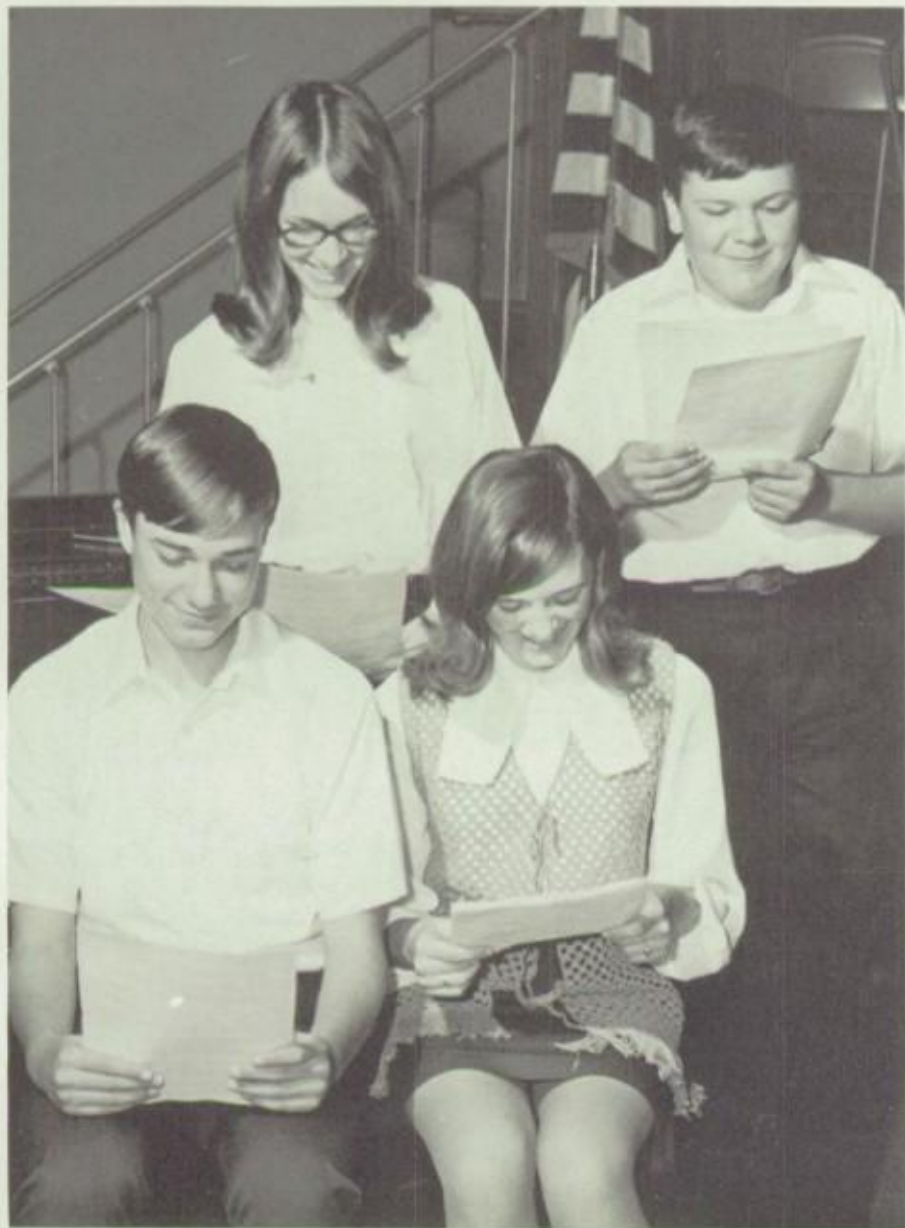

A group of the more talented members of the band, about 35 in all, made up the "Pep Band." This band held special practice sessions. They played for special events such as pep rallies, assembly programs and concerts.

Both bands participated in the annual spring concert held at the end of April.

Chorus Stages 3 Major Events

Under the direction of Mr. Arthur Gatty, the Freshman chorus staged three major events during the school term. The first of these was the annual Christmas concert held in conjunction with the senior high chorus. An overflow crowd was on hand to witness the program held December 17.

In the early part of March a musical entitled "Bubble Trouble" was presented to a capacity crowd. The annual Spring Concert-Variety Show took place the latter part of April. Individual talent was an important part of both of these programs.

From the profits realized in these programs new sheet music and other choral materials are purchased. Also, the chorus is treated to parties periodically in appreciation of its hard work and the giving up of free time after school to practice for programs.

There are 120 ninth graders in the chorus which meets every Tuesday, Thursday and every other Friday. These chorus rehearsals are held in the auditorium during first activity period.

 A Friend

Eugene,
You a really great person I'm glad I met this year. I'll never forget you & hope you won't forget me. You never were conceited you were great.
Yours and success
Donna Knipper

Eugene,
I never thought
that I ever had a handicap but I sure do. And that handicap is trying to out-smart you. Good luck in all your endeavours & just don't get so smart.
Yours & Peace
Marsh Rowland

JOHNSTOWN FLOOD NATIONAL MEMORIAL

To commemorate what until then was the Nation's worst natural disaster, Congress in 1964 authorized a 55-acre Johnstown Flood National Memorial to be established at the site of the old dam near South Fork. This immense earthen dam, weakened by days of steady rain, gave way on the afternoon of May 31, 1889, and poured millions of tons of water down the narrow valley of the Little Conemaugh River in western Pennsylvania. The flood devastated the thriving steel center of Johnstown and its nearby communities and gave the Nation an enduring legend. Some 2,200 persons perished within a few hours, and other thousands lost everything but their lives.
